Another phase of the week-long clean up drive was to encourage property owners to mow vacant lots. Anyone needing mowing services may call City Hall to list their name and address, or for additional information.

Trucks will continue to pick up all kinds of debris Thursday (today) and Friday according to Bernay Dusek, Clean-Up Week chairman.

The route for Thursday (today) is: Batte Street and Fourth Street to the north, Crockett and College to the east, Southern Pacific Railway and City limit to the west, City limits to the south.

3 City Youths Charged Here In Justice Court

Three Cameron youths were charged in Judge Jess Brock's Justice Court this weekend in connection with a break in at Cameron Country Club.

Frank L. Ewing and Gary Ewing both of Cameron, are free on $1,000 bond following their arrest. Glenn Westbrook of Cameron is being held in the Milam County jail in lieu of bond.

Sheriff Carl Black said golf balls, golf gloves, food and drinks had been taken from the Cameron Country Club about 1:30 a.m. Friday. He said entry had been gained through a window. Estimated value of the equipment and merchandise was set at $400 by Club officials.

The break in Friday morning was the latest in a series of break-ins at the local country club. Principal loss each time has been golf equipment.

BIDS OPEN ON ROOFING CITY HALL

The City-wide Cleanup campaign was in its fourth day with four extra trucks running while the City Council Tuesday in regular session opened, but tabled bids on roofing for the firehouse and City Hall.

In a routine meeting, the Council opened bids from Colley Roofing Co. of Waco, and Gilmeister Roofing Co. of Temple, but is holding decision until length of guarantees on roofing was checked, according to Mayor E. A. Perrin.

Mayor Perrin also said a special meeting with a representative of Joe J. Rady & Associates of Fort Worth is set for 5:30 p.m. Monday to discuss the City's contract with the engineers for work on the upcoming paving and curbing program of more than 100 blocks.

A public hearing is scheduled 10 a.m. Monday, July 1, at Milam District Courtroom for property owners interested in learning first-hand information on the proposed project, which will probably begin about mid-July.

City Atty. Ed Magre reported that final air easement negotiations are near for Cameron Airpark.

Mayor Perrin noted Council approval for a letter of intent requested by the County committing $1,440 for the Milam Health Unit.

A request for improvement of a drainage problem at Cameron First Presbyterian Church was tabled for additional information.

Mayor Perrin said the Council approved Library Board recommendations for Don G. Humble, Richard Williams and Frank Luecke as new board members to succeed outgoing members Monroe Fuchs, Judge W. C. Wallace and Dr. George Bowman.

Mayor Perrin said nothing new had developed on the proposed water-sewer system combination of federal-local origin in North Cameron.

Routine reports from water department showed connection of a four-inch sewerline and repair of a two-inch waterline. Street department report showed continuation of the insecticide program, commitment of four additional trucks on city-wide trash pickup and laying of gravel base on Handy Ave.

Campout To End Saturday For 14

A week of canoeing, cooking out and camping in the open will end for 14 area Boy Scouts Saturday morning.

Adventurers from Explorer Post 83, Cameron, and Post 51, Rosebud, left Sunday on a 50 mile canoe trip accompanied by Bill Storey, district Scout executive, and Harry Burleson, Rosebud Post advisor.

Canoes were launched in the San Saba River, just above the town of San Saba Sunday. Plans were to follow the San Saba to the Colorado River, then south on the Colorado to the entrance of Lake Buchanan. The group was due to to arrive at Camp Tahuaya Friday night and return to Cameron Saturday.

Each Scout carried a week's food, lodging and clothes on his back. They planned to sleep in the open in sleeping bags and live mainly on dehydrated trail food. Storey said a 6 pound supply would produce about 40 pounds of ready to eat food including biscuits, eggs, meat and vegetables.

The boys will do 10 hours of conservation work along the river to qualify for a 50-mile award given by the National Council of the Boy Scouts of America. Before leaving they were granted a national tour permit which includes an insurance policy covering them from the time they leave until they return home.

Cameron Scouts making the trip are: Dwight Jekel, Van Eanes, Raymond Green, Johnny Bailey, Rick Chamberlain, Frank Hanel, John Hanel, Doug Storey and Ray Rylander.

A phone call to Mrs. Storey from the camping party at noon Wednesday reported that the Scouts were still on the San Saba and were due to enter the Colorado that night or early Thursday.

"The trip is going real well," the report said, "everyone is having a good time. The food was a big surprise, as the boys didn't expect to find it so good. They are all well pleased."

Had the pleasure Tuesday in Houston of discussing work on the Uniform Probate Code with Ted Serrill, executive vice president of National Newspaper Association (300 dailies, 6,000 weeklies), and Tom Martin Davis, Houston attorney, co-chairman of the special U.S. committee working for a proposed nationally standardized uniform probate code.

Davis, a partner in the Houston law firm of Baker, Botts, Shepherd & Coates, is chairman of the Texas Commission on Uniform State Laws. Serrill heads the Washington office of NNA.

109 is a newspaperman.

Must have been a mistake, or perhaps recognition of 109's special quirk, objective involvement.

Perhaps the years of apology for being young and independent and right enough of the time are yielding some kind of reward.

109-109-109

If all this means anything, it means that a young man can achieve something in a small town in a rural area in Central Texas in the 1960s.

Who would think that defying the herd complex of the American people and mass economics of urbanizing America would allow such a thing?

This really upsets a lot of theories on personal and professional development. It upsets those with metropolitan upbringing almost as much as what is happening to the metropolitan environment.

It might further encourage able people to choose small-hown idiosyncracies over big-town economics. If so, it will slow at least this country's race to social disaster.

109 has had, in effect, to apologize, here and everywhere to family, friends and strangers, for believing the challenge of this post-war era is where we are, not with the mob.

Size beckons. Big money means big time, and 109 has never believed it.

For what little I've done, someone must be convinced that times have changed enough to justify a position that has cost some of the modern symbols and suggestions of success.

But has it? No one can enumerate the times our mobility has

Redistricting 'Unlikely' In '68

County Judge O. B. Harden said it appeared unlikely that districts would have to be re-drawn for commissioners this year although one Supreme Court decision has ruled in favor of the "one man, one vote" opinion.

A test case originating in Midland brought the ruling that county commissioners precincts must be divided equally by population.

Judge Harden said however that advice received to date was that no re-districting would be mandatory until another test case, or action by the state legislature.

To affect commissioners districts in next year's elections, the precincts would have to be changed by August, Harden said.

Tarrant County, reacting to the Supreme Court decision on the Midland case, appointed a committee to study redistricting.

Judge Harden said a new division had been discussed informally by Milam commissioners but no formal action had been taken to determine how present districts would be affected.

He said the most likely new division would be to equalize according to population between precincts 1 and 2 and precincts 3 and 4.

Judge Harden said that funds for the precincts were budgeted on the basis of miles of roads and land evaluations at present.

Wilson Found Guilty In Thorndale Theft

A petit jury found Joe Nathan Wilson guilty of burglary following a trial in Milam District Court Tuesday.

He is free on $3,000 bond this week awaiting sentencing by District Judge W. C. Wallace.

Wilson was charged with breaking in the Steve Rieger Store in Thorndale Nov. 17, 1967. Testimony indicated that cases of cigarettes taken from the store were later sold by Wilson for $600.

Calendar Set For St. Edward Drive

The campaign calendar for the $250,600 St. Edward Hospital Development Fund has been set, according to Robert Ellett, general chairman.

In making the announceuent, Ellett said, "I am very pleased with the progress we have made. Up until now we have concentrated on the recruitment of chairmen and volunteer workers for the various campaign committees, in addition to making a multitude of decisions with respect to the campaign mechanics and strategy."

According to Ellett the first phase of the campaign will be the donor contact, or advance gift solicitation, and will start July 22. During this part of the campaign emphasis will be placed on the personal contact of a select list of local and out-of-county businesses and individuals, as well as national foundations.

The first phase will continue until September 10, at which time the public campaign for funds will begin.

Donor contact committee members are: Albert Collins, chairman, Dr. George Bowman, John H. Davis, Don G. Humble, and Dr. C. G. Swift.

The $250,000 goal will help to provide a needed new 50-bed St. Edward Hospital. A $500,000 Hill-Burton grant has already been awarded and the Sisters of Charity of the Incarnate Word, who operate the hospital will borrow the remaining funds for the $1,000,000 facility.

HUNGER USA REPORT STIRS STATE SURVEY

The University of Texas Medical Branch at Galveston and the Texas State Department of Health will conduct the first phase of a program which will ultimately answer the question-- "Is there hunger in America today?"

The Texas National Nutrition Survey will launch the first study in eight states selected for the purpose of "identifying the prevalence, cause, and location of malnutrition," according to Dr. Arnold E. Schaefer, executive director of the nutrition program.

Dr. Schaefer said the eight states were chosen because of their diversity of population -- all had either large urban, large rural or large migrant worker populations.

A total of 103 census tract enumeration districts in 26 counties in Texas (Milan County is not included) have been designated for visitation by the survey team. An average of 20 families will be contacted in each enumeration district.

Dr. William J. McGanity of UT MB, co-director of the Texas survey, explained that the teams would be looking for "concrete, hard evidence of nutritional health status. We will approach this much as one would approach a test for diabetes," he said, "by testing blood and urine."

Dr. McGanity pointed out that team members will not diagnose or treat medical or dental problems but persons with these needs will be referred to their local physician or community health department.

The first phase of the program, to be completed around Sept. 1, will be to determine whether or not a hunger problem exists and the relative magnitude of that problem.

Dr. McGanity pointed out that there is a distinct difference between the terms of hunger and malnutrition. "Malnutrition," he said, "is demonstrated, objective evidence that there are inadequate amounts of essential nutrients available to this person which can be demonstrated by a combination of dietary historical information, medical examination and biochemical manifestations.

Hunger, he feels, may or may not have reference to nutritional status. Chronic hunger will show up as malnutrition, he explained.

Manifestations of the undernourished person, Dr. McGanity said, are death and growth retardation.

Game Warden Moves To Falls County Post

Delbert Davis, game warden for Milam and Falls counties since 1962, will be transferred to Marlin effective July 15.

Davis, who moved to Cameron in June, 1962, said under new State Parks and Wildlife divisions a game warden will be assigned to each county. His successor in Milam County has not been named.

Davis said there was a definite increase in the use of fishing and hunting facilities in Milam County over the past six years. "I can see a great increase in the number of people fishing and this area has become particularly popular for hunters at the beginning of dove season."

Top 4 OJT Classes Closed

CISD Joins Center, TASB

The Cameron School Board last Thursday night voted unanimously to join a Regional Media Center, the Texas Association of School Boards and to eliminate the top four grades at O. J. Thomas School.

Board members also employed John and Naomi Zajicek, Bobby Carter and accepted the resignation of Mrs. Lucy Smith.

And the Board voted to advertise for bids for the sale of Branchville School, gymnasium and land and the vocational agriculture building at O. J. Thomas.

The board voted by ballot 5 to 0 to combine the top four grades of O. J. Thomas with Yoe High School, leaving an eight-grade school at O. J. Thomas. The lower eight grades throughout Cameron Public Schools would continue to operate under the program scheduled for school year 1968-69.

An alternative of adapting O. J. Thomas to a junior high school grades 6, 7 and 8 and total elimination of the O. J. Thomas' present status did not come to a vote.

The minutes noted: "After a lengthy discussion on the integration program, the ballot was spread and a vote was taken whether or not to combine grades 9-10-11-12 of O. J. Thomas and Yoe High School. The vote was: Ayes 5, Noes 0."

In other action, the board voted to raise secretary Viola Wied's salary by $75 a month following her undertaking additional duties in a realignment of school administration program retroactive to June 1.

And the board approved a recommendation that Floyd B. Dodson, retirng custodian, received salary for June and July and be sent a letter acknowledging his service to the schools.

And a two-man committee of Supt. D. R. Dodson and Hilliard Thomas was named to study costs and needs of erecting a chain link fence around the O. J. Thomas campus.

Board members discussed at length gaining additional classroom space for Yoe High School classes. Supt. Dodson received approval to work out additional space by using the main floor of YHS Auditorium for a study hall.

He said additional space will be made available this year by using the two classrooms formerly the band hall on the second floor east end of Yoe gym.

Present were: Board president Coleman Duncum, vice president Thomas, members Charles McDermott, Calvin Cobb, Forrest Sapp and Dr. John Martin.

Senior Drivers Superior, Says Safety Expert

Being 65 or more years old does not automatically throw a person into the "unable to drive" category. In one test an 82-year-old woman showed faster driving reflexes than an Air Force cadet similarly tested.

"Senior drivers are, as a class, vastly superior to drivers 25 or less," Judge Sherman G. Finesilver, Denver, a nationally traveled safety expert, says his studies demonstrate.

Individuals in the 65 years and more age bracket scored higher on knowledge of driving rules on a recent television driving test, according to Minnie Bell, Extension family life specialist.

They present a problem, however, because they don't like seat belts and won't use them; won't yield to right-of-way; drive too slow; and don't like to change lanes, said the Texas A&M University specialist.

Judge Finesilver recommended safety driving training for this group.

A special need exists in Texas because of the change in driver's licensing now done on an individual basis says Miss Bell. She reported that 211 counties in Texas have local committees on aging.

Many of these committees have sponsored a Drivers' Refresher Course conducted by the Department of Public Safety.

Based on defensive driving techniques on multiple-lane highways in heavy traffic and for night driving and advances in automobile construction, the course was first designed in cooperation with the Governor's Committee on Aging.

About 7.5 percent of American drivers are 65 or more years old.

SEE AND TALK — Experimental picture -- phone service will be described by Jim Sage in his program "The Magic of Communications", Monday at a joint meeting of Cameron Lions Clubs in Methodist Fellowship Hall. Sage is science demonstrator for Southwestern Bell Telephone Co.

Lions Set Joint Program Monday

Southwestern Bell's James R. Sage, will demonstrate new communications developments when Cameron Lions meet for a joint installation and program Monday.

Meeting for Cameron noon and evening Lions Clubs will be at 7 p.m. June 24 in the Methodist Fellowship Hall. Harold Love of Rockdale will install officers and directors for both clubs.

A disappearing telephone and a talking coffee pot will be shown by Sage in his program "The Magic of Communications." Borrowing tricks from the magician's trade, Sage, science demonstrator for Southwestern Bell, will use 'sleight of hand' to illustrate several points in his talk. Among these is a magic box which will instantly create a full-size telephone after individual parts are dropped into it.

Sage also will make a telephone disappear and will show the audience how a common coffee pot can send phone calls about as well as the telephone in the kitchen.

Other demonstrations will include Picture-Phone, the "see as you talk" telephone service that the Bell System has in experimental operation between New York City, Chicago and Washington, D.C.

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS

By Vern Sanford

Texans often fail to count their blessings when it comes to good fishing. Perhaps it's because we have no really spectacular waters.

Or it may be due to the fact that since our waters are increasing so much each year, we just don't fully appreciate the wonderful fishing we do have.

Some outdoorsmen have even questioned the wisdom of the state operating a dozen or so hatcheries for stocking and restocking fish in both old and new waters.

But other states are finding their stocking problem so great they are using airplanes for distribution.

A typical example is Arizona. There, recently, an airplane took off from the airstrip at Page in what the Department of Interior said would be a major step in the program of development of recreational areas of the Rocky Mountain States.

This plane was equipped with special tanks that contained 500 two-inch rainbow trout for distribution in Lake Powell. Dipping low over the lake, the plane dumped its live cargo into the waters and returned for load after load of hatchery - raised rainbows. Here was modernistic stocking of a new lake built behind a huge dam on the Colorado.

In the course of one day this pilot dumped more than a million hatchery-produced fish into this one lake. That is approximately one-eighth the number of hatchery-produced fish in Texas each year.

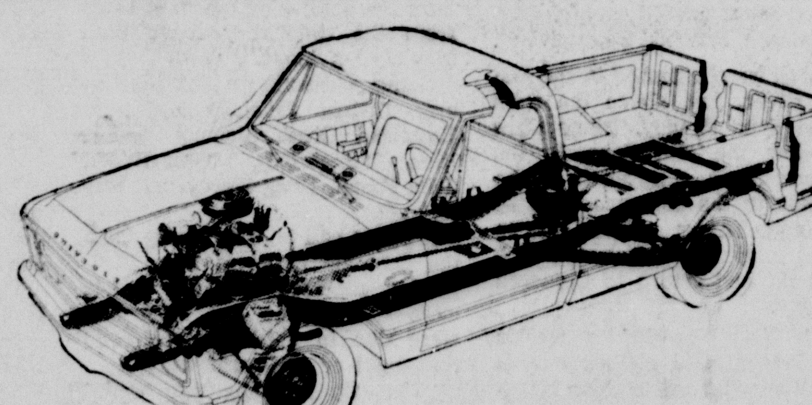
But this pilot didn't stop with one day's work. Next day he flew into other reaches of the Colorado, well above the Glen Canyon Dam, and dumped another million trout. Later on another two million will be planted in the lake.

Even more fascinating is the fact that while he was dumping rainbow trout into the waters, other pilots were hauling bass, larger than fingerling, into the upper reaches of the river.

These were black bass and largemouth bass. Some of the largemouths were produced by the federal hatchery in Austin. These Texas bass were dumped into the water from the air in both Arizona and Utah.

Lake Powell is the largest of several artificial lakes being created by the Bureau of Reclamation on the Upper Colorado storage system.

What gets under Chevrolet's skin?



Only the toughest truck components in the business!

Beneath Chevrolet's thick skin (double-walled in most places) lies a truck chassis built for punishment. A heavy-gauge steel frame provides the solid backbone for this inner strength. While a host of durable driveline components supply the muscle. Enough to whip most any job.

Of course, the heart of all this brawn is a Chevrolet engine. Six or V8, all are built for stamina. They last longer because of such things as induction-hardened crankshaft journals. Inexpensive to operate, too. All run on regular gasoline.

Keeping everything riding smoothly is the job of Chevy's famed independent front suspension. And what a job it does! Combined with tough coil springs, front and rear, this suspension system cushions the entire truck from jarring road shock.

So you see, beautiful engineering is more than skin deep on Chevrolet.

It shall not be necessary to levy all of the assessments at one time or by a single ordinance, and said hearing may be closed as to each portion of a street or avenue constituting a unit of improvement (as such units are designated below), after a fair opportunity for hearing has been afforded to all desiring to contest the assessments proposed to be levied against the owners and their properties abutting on a portion of each such street or avenue constituting a unit of improvement; and the City Council shall then have the power to levy such assessments against such abutting properties and against the owners thereof, as provided herein and in the prior proceedings of the City Council herein referred to. No assessment will be made against any abutting properties or the owners thereof in excess of the special benefits to such properties and their owners in the enhanced value thereof by means of such improvements as determined at such hearing. All of said owners, claimants, railways and other interested parties, their agents or attorneys, are hereby referred for further information to the proceedings with reference to said improvements on file and-or of record with the City Secretary of the City of Cameron, Texas, and particularly to the estimate of the City's Engineer, and to the proposed assessment roll wherein the exact amount proposed to be assessed against each abutting property and the owner thereof is set forth; said City's Engineer's estimate and said proposed assessment roll being on file in the office of the City Secretary.

II

The nature of the improvements for which assessments are proposed to be levied and to which this notice relates is the excavating, grading, filling and permanently paving or permanently repairing, repaving or straightening and widening, if necessary, of the hereinafter described streets and avenues or portions thereof, within the limits below set forth, so as to cause said streets and avenues to be paved to the width set out below, from back of curb to back of curb, and the construction of six-inch curbs and gutters, where there is no existing curb and gutter which can be utilized and where there is existing curb and gutter which can be utilized by the reconstructing and realigning of same, where necessary, and the construction of such other necessary incidentals and appurtenances as the Engineer in charge of such construction has found to be necessary and advisable, all as shown by the plans and specifications of the City's Engineer; the exact nature of such improvements being more particularly shown in the plans and specifications which are on file in the office of the City Secretary of the City of Cameron, Texas. Said permanent paving shall consist of hot mix asphaltic concrete surfacing, 1½" thick, on a 6" compacted pit-run gravel base with a 3 percent lime stabilized sub-base.

III

The streets and avenues or portions thereof to be improved within the limits designated by the City Council are listed below as they have been divided by said City Council into separate and distinct improvement units. There is stated in connection with the listing of each street and avenue or portion thereof within the limits herein defined constituting each improvement unit the estimated amount per front foot to be assessed against the owners of properties abutting such street or avenue or portion thereof and such properties, the estimated amount proposed to be assessed against railways owning or claiming any interest in or lien upon such abutting properties, the amount to be assessed as a tax against any railway using, occupying or crossing any of such streets or avenues within such limits for the cost of the improvements to be constructed in the area between and under rails, tracks, double tracks, turnouts and switches, and two feet on each side thereof, and the estimated total cost of the street improvements in each improvement unit and the width of paved surface to be attained from back of curb to back of curb.

In each unit, except Units 2 and 8, there is included in the estimated amount per front foot proposed to be assessed against abutting properties and the owners thereof approximately $1.48 per linear foot for curb and gutter. In the event there is adequate existing concrete curb and gutter abutting any one or more of the properties being improved, which curb and gutter can be utilized without reconstruction or realignment, such curb and gutter abutting such properties shall be utilized and no assessment will be levied against such properties or the owners thereof for curbs and gutters.

In Units 2 and 8, no curb and gutter will be laid and the rates shown below with respect to these units are for paving only.

The designation of such streets and avenues or portions thereof and such other information is as follows:

IV

The City reserves the right to omit the improvements in front of any properties any interest in which was exempt from the liens of special assessment at the time the street improvements were ordered, and further reserves the right to omit the improvements to entire units or blocks therein where one or more properties therein are exempt from the lien of the assessment and the owners fail or refuse to execute valid mechanics' lien contracts fixing valid contractual liens against such properties, or to otherwise secure the payment of their share of the costs of such improvements, and any such omissions will not invalidate the lien or liability on assessments made against the properties abutting any streets or avenues or any portions thereof being improved

V

Whenever a part of the boundary of the City of Cameron is upon or along any street or avenue above named which at that point lies wholly within, partly within and partly without, or wholly outside the limits of such City, it is nevertheless the intention of the City Council that the portion of the cost which it is proposed to assess against abutting properties shall be assessed against the properties abutting on both sides of such streets and avenues and against the owners thereof.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

"Don't Blame Me!"

Startlingly simple was the defense offered by a young man accused of murdering his own father.

"I'm a rough character," he conceded in court, "but only because my father brought me up that way. He taught me to drink whiskey, use a gun, and run around with a gang. So don't blame me for what I did. Blame my father."

No doubt the slain father bore a share of the fault. But the court held the son guilty anyhow, because he was old enough and rational enough to take responsibility for his own behavior.

To what degree should extenuating circumstances excuse what would otherwise be a crime? To what degree should a killer be allowed to blame his upbringing? a thief his poverty? a rapist his passion? a vandal his youthfulness?

In an earlier day, there was little of such talk in the courtroom. Wrong brought retribution almost as a matter of course. Scarcely a century ago, a murderer was put to death in an American prison even though he was only 12 years old.

But with greater insight into human motivations has come greater understanding in fixing blame.

Thus, mental deficiencies are increasingly taken into account—not only in deciding on legal guilt but also in setting the punishment. And all states recognize a minimum age below which a person cannot be held to criminal liability.

Nevertheless, while today's law avoids total responsibility, it also avoids total irresponsibility. It holds that most people, in most situations, do indeed have freedom of choice between doing right and doing wrong.

Because of that freedom, an individual is expected to stand on his own feet, be his own man, and "take his medicine" for what he does wrong—just as he is entitled to take credit for what he does right.

In short, despite outer influence or inner weakness, despite the pressure of adversity or the lure of temptation, he usually has the power to refrain from harming others—if he tries hard enough.

And, for the sake of society, the law demands that he try that hard.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

ONE ANGRY CITIEZN

Let Congress levy a tax on cats, and any cat owner could challenge the constitutionality of the law in the courtroom.

But suppose you have no cat. Could you still challenge the law, simply because you feel Congress is getting out of line? May any angry citizen raise the issue of constitutionality, just on general principles?

Ordinarily, no. The right to challenge the constitutionality of a law is limited to those who are directly involved. Unless you have some personal stake in the matter, you lack what the law calls "standing" to sue the government.

Why not let anybody sue? Partly because there might be a court-clogging flood of lawsuits. And partly because basic constitutional questions might be decided without the safeguard of having the arguments made by persons motivated by a real interest in the outcome.

What kind of a personal interest must you have to bring such a case?

The most obvious kind is financial. As a cat owner in the example above, you would have a direct interest — because the tax would come out of your pocketbook. Likewise, a property owner was held qualified to challenge a zoning law, because it would cut the dollar value of his land.

Even if your interest is not financial, it may still be weighty enough to justify a suit. Thus, a court allowed the complaint of two trolley riders against the government for permitting music on trolleys. Even though the music did not cost them any money, it could cost them valuable peace of mind.

On the other hand, your interest — financial or otherwise — won't support a suit if it is just too trivial. A taxpayer's attack on a federal appropriation bill was thrown out, because his stake in the total federal budget was held too tiny to really matter.

Nor can you ordinarily sue when your complaint is purely theoretical. In one case a motorist, although given only a mild sentence for drunk driving, challenged the validity of the state traffic law. He argued that, under this law, the judge could have imposed a sentence so harsh as to be "cruel and unusual."

But he got nowhere. The court said he had no standing to complain about what might have happened—but didn't.

WASHINGTON — The following letters were recently answered by the Department of State.

Restrictions on Travel Abroad

What constitutional or other legal right does the U. S. Government have to prosecute individuals going to countries such as Cuba) for which their passports are not valid? Clearly, they go without US Government protection, but if they do this of their own accord, and the recipient country (such as Cuba) welcomes them and extends its own protection to them, what US laws have they violated? Is it not a personal right to travel as one pleases, so long as it does not give aid, comfort, etc., to a declared enemy (which Cuba is not), or with whom the US is formally at war (which it is not with Cuba)?

Can you please help us out at your earliest convenience?

T. C.
Menlo Park, Calif.

Dear Mr. C.:

The legal authority of the Department of State to impose passport restrictions has been upheld by the Supreme Court in the case of Zemel v. Rusk, 381 U.S. 1 (1965). The Court noted that the right to travel within the United States was constitutionally protected but pointed out that considerations of safety or welfare of the area or the nation as a whole might warrant the quarantine of that area. The Court extended this logic to international travel. Thus, the right to travel, while recognized as a constitutional right is subject to qualification. The Court held that the Passport Act of 1926 authorizing the Secretary of State to issue passports coupled with the administrative practice of many years, in restricting, from time to time, the validity of passports with respect to certain areas, was ample authority for imposing the area restriction in question, i.e., Cuba.

The present regulations dealing with area restriction (22 C.F.R.) 51.72) provide that passports may be invalidated for travel to restricted areas upon determination by the Secretary of State that a country or area is:

1. A country with which the United States is at war;
2. A country or area where armed hostilities are in progress;
3. A country or area to which travel must be restricted in the national interest because such travel would seriously impair the conduct of United States foreign affairs. (This is the case with Cuba.)

Apartheid Trust Fund

In 1965 the United States supported the establishment of a Trust Fund, under the auspices of the United Nations, to assist the victimes of apartheid in South Africa.

It is astounding, and in my opinion disgraceful, that to date the US Government has not contributed any funds to this Trust Fund. Why did we vote for the resolution if we had no intention to implement it? Is there an explanation?

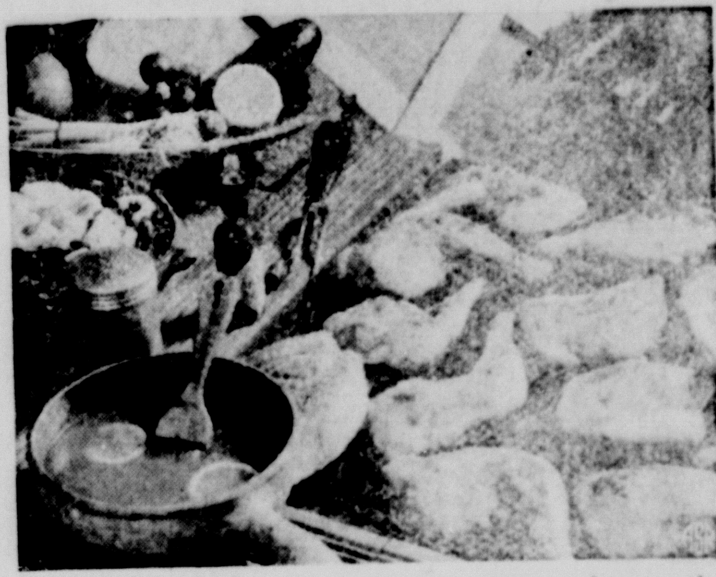
Chicken Barbecue Time



For any cookout, succulent chicken is always welcome — the bird makes a great hit with youngsters and grownups alike. Chicken is easy enough to cook over a grill, and this barbecue sauce is simplicity itself. It combines tangy ingredients with the added spice of Tabasco liquid red pepper seasoning. Just as no barbecue is complete without a great barbecue sauce, no barbecue sauce is complete without this piquant ingredient. And keep in mind that you will want plenty of chicken for the occasion. The National Broiler Council suggests that you allow half a chicken per person.

Chicken with Western Barbecue Sauce

3 broiler-fryer chickens quartered
2 teaspoons salt

Sprinkle chickens on both sides with salt. Place broiler fryer quarters, skin side up, on grate set 3 to 6 inches from heat. Brush chicken generously with Western Barbecue Sauce*. Cook until tender, turning and brushing occasionally. Allow about 45 minutes to 1¼ hours total cooking time, depending on weight of chickens and distance from heat. To test doneness, leg should twist easily out of thigh joint and pieces should feel tender when probed by a fork. YIELD: 4 servings.

Western Barbecue Sauce

¼ cup butter
¼ cup vinegar
¼ cup catchup
¼ cup lemon juice
¼ cup Worcestershire sauce
½ teaspoon Tabasco
Slices lemon, optional

Melt butter in saucepan. Stir in remaining ingredients and bring to boil; remove from heat. Brush chicken quarters generously with sauce while barbecuing. YIELD: 1¼ cups sauce.

Except The LORD Build The HOUSE They Labor In Vain That Build It

Dreamed of by millions, searched for by many, discovered by a few:
Established, built, maintained and governed by a Fundamental Belief in God;
That is America — these United States, our home, if you please, it is you and me. How else could the heritage we hold come to be? A system? Not so!
But surely it is a dedicated, consecrated way of life as set forth in the Sermon on the Mount.
And through the grief and misery suffered at Valley Forge, shines the same light which has illuminated men's minds since time began.
That same light, the light of Faith found in the holy word of God, is now lighting and showing the way, the way of truth to us as a nation and as individuals.
And just so long as we, each of us each day, rededicate our lives to a Fundamental Belief in God can we endure.

Then, let us worship in the true Faith of Our Fathers in the sanctuary of our choosing every week. A-Men.

SIX FLAGS REVUE SALUTES THE RED, WHITE AND BLUE

Faces of American Youth — Ten Texas collegians appearing in SIX FLAGS Over Texas' "Red, White and Blue Revue" are bringing audiences to their feet in patriotic acclaim for the rousing ways these youngsters romp through a fast-moving series of familiar tunes ranging from American folk music, spirituals, musical comedy, and western to popular music.

Arlington, Texas — Performances of SIX FLAGS Over Texas' new musical show, the "Red, White and Blue Revue," with a cast of ten talented collegians, are being greeted by enthusiastic audiences with standing ovations of approval.

The annual show is one of the featured highlights of the popular theme park's 80 rides, attractions and shows.

The general musical approach to the "Red, White and Blue Revue" does not hinge on a plot, but rather on a fast-moving series of familiar tunes from American folk music, spirituals, musical comedy, Western and popular music.

Robert Douglass, Music Critic for the Fort Worth Star Telegram, reviewed the show, saying in part: "Nostalgia is a major force at SIX FLAGS, but somehow it was timely and heartening to hear these youngsters romping their way through patriotic and regional songs with convincing fervor. It brought goose pimples, too. The grand finale with "It's A Grand Old Flag" backed by a tremendous 40- by 20-foot flag brought a standing roar from the crowd."

The "Red, White and Blue Revue," written by C. R. Meeker, Jr., and produced by David Blackburn and Michael Jenkins with David Bright conducting the orchestra and ensemble, is staged in the Park's new 1,200-seat, air-conditioned Southern Palace Music Hall. Shows are scheduled for six or seven performances each operating day.

SIX FLAGS, 140-acre, $16,000,000 theme park located midway between Dallas and Fort Worth, is open during the Spring on weekends only but commences daily operations from May 25 through the 7th of September.

Folders Detail Texas Mountain, Forest Trails

AUSTIN

Governor John Connally today announced the publication of detailed folders for two of the Statewide system of Texas Travel Trails.

The folders, published by the Texas Highway Department, will serve as guides and detail numerous points of interest along the Texas Mountain Trail in far West Texas, and the Texas Forest Trail in deep East Texas.

The folders will lead travelers through picturesque landscapes, by historic sites and to colorful cities and towns on the two official State trails.

Connally announced the new Statewide system of trails last January. Each county erected special Travel Trail signs along the 10 official trail routes.

The Mountail Trail folder guides travelers through the tallest region of Texas, where 90 peaks thrust above a mile high. The route goes past the nation's newest national park, to be developed in the Guadalupe Mountains, and to Davis Mountains State Park.

The Texas Forest Trail explores a 790-mile loop through the vast Piney Woods region. It goes through four national forests and past scores of federal, State and county recreational areas.

Travel Trail literature is available from the Texas Highway Department tourist bureaus and district offices, and at chambers of commerce along the Travel Trail routes.

A shorn wool incentive price of 69 cents a pound for 1969 marketings, an increase of 2 cents a pound over the present level, has been announced. At the same time, also announced was the support price for mohair at 77.4 cents a pound, the same as the support price for 1968 marketings.

The price of pulled wool will be supported at a level comparable to the incentive price for shorn wool.

Shorn wool payments will be equal to a percentage of each producer's returns from sales. The percentage will be that required to raise the national average price received by all producers from shorn wool up to the announced 69 cents a pound incentive price. Mohair payments will be determined in a similar manner.

The wool payment program was initiated as the most practical method of supporting producers' wool prices, thereby increasing income with the goal of a continuing domestic production of wool.

The 1969 support program will be carried out under the National Wool Act of 1954, as amended by the Food and Agriculture Act of 1965, which extends the wool and mohair payment program through 1969 and prescribes a formula which sets the support price for wool.

Payments to producers on the 1969 calendar year marketings will be made beginning in April 1970. Applications for such payments must be filed not later than Jan. 31, 1970.

GIVE PASTURES ATTENTION

Pastures should receive closer attention in view of current conditions over the state, believes Neal Pratt, Extension agronomist. There is lots of grass now that moisture is plentiful, but when moisture gets short, fertilizer is what makes the grass grow, he adds.

4-H CLUB ACTIVITIES

By Fred Schuetze

On Tuesday, June 11, Clyde Jistel and Melvin Hollas from the Countywide 4-H Club, and Betty Margaret Orr from the Rockdale 4-H Club, accompanied by Fred Schuetze, Ass't County Agent and Doretha Holmes, Assoc. County Home Demonstration Agent, traveled to Stephenville for the District 8 4-H Leadership Congress.

Each of these 4-H'ers played an important role in the Congress itself, working on various committees which in turn laid the background for the entire Congress. Clyde Jistel was a member of the recap committee and the delegate from Milam County on the District 8 Council. Betty was a member of the assembly committee and Melvin was a member of the banquet committee. Aside from their committee work these 4-H'ers also presented a skit at the Romp In, a fun and relaxation period held Wednesday.

Dr. Herman Brown, associate professor of Agricultural Education at Texas A&M, and Ross Alsup, a former assistant county agent and now teaching assistant in the Ag Department at A&M started the Congress with a session communication and group working and planning. This laid a background for the committee work the 4-H'ers participated in.

These 4-H'ers who represented Milam County now have the responsibility to use what they learned to help the clubs in this county to increase the leadership and participation in order that our clubs may grow and have greater depth.

RECORD BOOK WORKSHOPS

On July 17, record books are due in the district office. Record book workshops will be held June 26 in Rockdale and June 27 in Cameron at 8 p.m.

All 4-H members and parents are urged to attend because record books are an important part of the 4-H program. The workshop in Rockdale will be held at the Rockdale State Bank and in Cameron at the county agricultural extension office.

FAMILY NIGHT

The Rockdale 4-H Club held their annual Family Night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Orr. Parents and 4-H'ers attended this outing and had an enjoyable time visiting and eating hot dogs.

Christine Laws, county HD agent, and Fred Schuetze, ass't county agent, attended the outing.

4-H HORSE SHOW

Two Milam County 4-H'ers participated in the Georgetown 4-H Horse Show June 1.

Martha Lynn McDermott placed first in Western Pleasure Class and Murray McDermott placed first in the Reining Class.

Dr. and Mrs. Lyle McDermott are the parents of both 4-H'ers. Congratulations to these fine young people and their proud parents.

HD Agent's Notes

By Christine Laws

Although meat, poultry and fish are available year around, there are times when they are more plentiful and cheaper. Take advantage of these times to stock your freezer.

These frozen products equal the fresh items in nutritive value, original flavor, and color if properly packaged and frozen. Freezing does not improve meat so it is important to select good quality, government inspected products. Look for the US Prime, Choice or Good Grades.

If you are butchering beef or lamb, remember aging improves the tenderness and flavor. Age a choice 300-pound calf carcass at least six to seven days at a uniform temperature of 37 to 40 degrees F. Let choice 500 to 600-pound carcass hang at least 10 days or two weeks. Age lamb no longer than seven days.

Cut meat according to best improved methods. Boneless cuts save freezer space. But it is best not to bone steaks, chops, short ribs and legs of lamb.

Freeze the size package required for a meal. Thawing and then refreezing lowers the quality of the product. Cutting poultry in serving pieces saves space and adds convenience.

Prepackaged self - service meats may be stored in the freezer for one to two weeks in the well-sealed store package. For longer freezer storage, overwrap or rewrap with special freezer material. Meats should be wrapped tightly in moisture-vapor-resistant material to prevent discoloration of the skin and flesh by drying. At low temperature, the air is very dry and will absorb moisture from improperly packaged food leaving it dry. This is known as freezer burn, a condition that leaves meat dry, tough and less flavorful.

Crayon or china or felt tipped marking pencils work well to label packages with the name of the product and date packaged.

FREEZING FISH

Fish should be frozen immediately after the catch because it deteriorates rapidly. If this is not possible, pack in ice until it can be dressed. Prepare for cooking: remove fins, head, tail, entrails and scales. Wash and dip fish in a salt solution of one cup salt to one gallon of water for one minute. Then wrap fish tightly in moisture-vapor-proof material and freeze.

County Agent's Notes...

It's Hay Time In Milam County

By J. D. Moore

Agricultural committees estimated that 10,000 acres were cut for hay in Milam County in 1967. This is an estimate. There could easily be more acreage because of the success of the forage sorghum cut for hay.

Hay is an important crop in Texas with an annual production of over 3 million tons. Its value is in excess of $63 million and ranks fourth among major corps. Milam County's 1967 hay crop was valued at $375,000. Hay is considered an expensive crop by cattlemen. The harvesting cost alone runs in the neighborhood of 35 cents per bale.

Maintaining quality is another almost uncontrollable problem in the production of hay. For example, for the highest protein content hay should be cut in the "booting" to early "heading" stage. Local hay should have been cut not later than June 1, for highest quality. Due to excessive moisutre, hay harvest was delayed at least two weeks.

Robert Orr of Rockdale sent a sample of coastal and a sample of Ermelo Lovegrass to A&M for protein analysis on June 4. The coastal tested 6.8 percent digestible protein and the Ermelo Lovegrass tested 8.0 percent digestible protein. Research figures show that a 7.8 percent digestible hay is worth $18.25 per ton while a 5.9 percent digestible hay is worth only $13.80 per ton.

Proper soil fertility and management of hay crops is necessary for efficient production. The cost per ton of hay produced increases little, if any, when fertility level is increased and the quality increases greatly.

The county agent visited a planting of certified Coast-cross Bermuda grass 1 on the John Parmelee place south of Rockdale recently. Parmelee planted 20 bushels of Coast-cross grass under certified regulations.

SORGHUM MIDGE

Grain sorghum farmers are concerned aboutmidge damage to their grain sorghum. Sorghum midge are being reported in the county. Entomologists say early midge populations are not economically important as they are not damaging enough.

Damaging populations of midge are not expected in Milam County before the last week in June. However, grain farmers are urged to inspect their fields for midge at least two times a week and apply insecticides if advisable. A guide for controlling these insects, MP-339, is available at the county agent's office.

FEDERAL CROP INSURANCE

More than $900 million in farm crop production investments are protected by Federal Crop Insurance this year. This is the highest amount of protection in the 30-year history of the insurance program, reports the USDA.

Burial Expenses Paid By VA For Eligible Deceased Veterans

Up to $250 for burial expenses for eligible deceased veterans will be paid by the Veterans Administration if the claim is filed within two years after the veteran's burial or cremation, according to Jack Coker, manager of the VA Regional office in Waco.

Burial claims may be filed by the undertaker, if he has not been paid, or by the party who paid the undertaker, the VA spokesman explained.

Coker said the VA would reimburse up to $250 in expenses for the permanent burial or cremation of any veteran who was discharged under conditions other than dishonorable, if the veteran served during wartime or after August 4, 1964.

Coker pointed out that similar burial expenses are also paid by VA for veterans of peacetime service who were receiving service-connected disability compensation at the time of their death, or who had been released from service for disabilities incurred in line of duty.

MORE POWER FOR 250,000 TEXANS

Within the next few days the Randy W. Miller generating plant of the Brazos Electric Power Cooperative will be activated. Giant steam turbines will begin to spin, huge dynamos will turn and 66,000 kilowatts of electric energy will flow through 1650 miles of transmission lines to more than a quarter million people in 57 counties of the Brazos River Watershed.

This new plant could supply a city of 60,000 people. Added to the present Brazos capacity of 89,000 kilowatts plus interconnections with eleven Texas cities, this new facility means greater stability and even more dependable service. The 19 member-owned electric systems which distribute this electricity will find it an additional source of growing power for rural Texas.

The dependable new source of low cost power will keep Brazos Electric Power Cooperative ahead of demand . . . Helping Texas Grow.

The Public Conscience . . .

We are assured by a survey of Milam County and about 260 "hunger" counties in this country that people, as stated, are not hungry in "emergency" counties like ours, only ignorant.

They don't know how, in some cases, to prepare the food stuffs given or how to care for their young. And the food stuffs provided do not necessarily yield a balanced diet.

After the UAWU survey which labeled Milam, Limestone and Falls Counties "emergency" counties, Cong. W. R. Poage polled the health officers of all the counties mentioned in the private survey. The consensus was no starvation, but many cases of ignorance in handling diet were noted by health officials in their rounds.

The State Welfare Department had a man in Cameron a week or so ago making another survey. No one knows what it showed, if anything.

We understand that the Agriculture Dept.'s food program in Milam County has been handling 11 basic commodities which provide most of the essentials for people who qualify for such a food program. Numbers drawing food under the program vary over the years from 2,000 to 3,000. The program has been in effect for about 12 years here.

Five more basic commodities, not previously offered, are being considered for better diet balance.

The U. S. Agriculture Dept. has rebutted a lot of the criticism arising from the UAWU survey. But the conscience of a lot of people has been stirred, though there is no starvation in the counties said to have such problems.

Another survey is being started by the Medical School of the University of Texas to check counties. Maybe it will shed additional light, if any is needed.

Reports on both the UofT Medical School's plans and the Poage Survey are in this edition of The Herald.

Milam County perhaps has no starvation, but continued focus on housing and education needs cites an awakening public conscience.

Why Not The Backstops?

Tennis is not a popular sport. Okay! We don't need school tennis courts in Cameron. Other things are more important.

Then let's remove the backstops at an otherwise improving Yoe Campus. Rust is all that is holding them up.

How long is the town going to tolerate that junk surrounding them? The School pulled down and replaced all the baseball backstops and fencing on the Campus several years ago.

Why not the backstops?

Poage Releases 'Hunger Study' Says Citizen's Report Misleading

Chairman W. R. Poage, D—Tex., of the House Committee on Agriculture, and Rep. Page Belcher, R—Okla., ranking minority committee member, made public today a 79-page document entitled "Hunger Study" dealing with nutritional conditions in 181 counties in widely separated parts of the country.

Statements submitted to the committee by officials of the counties, which were among the 256 described in a much publicized but unofficial report as "emergency hunger counties", lead to the "unmistakable conclusion that there is very little actual hunger in the United States, but widespread malnutrition caused largely by ignorance as to what constitutes a balanced diet."

The few instances of borderline starvation and hunger referred to in the statements were blamed mostly on parental negligence of infants, and most of these involved mentally retarded fathers and mothers.

Letters from the county officials constitute the bulk of the committee document made public by Poage and Belcher. They were responses to letters by Poage addressed to the County Health Officer of each of the 256 counties designated as emergency hunger areas in a report put out by the Citizens Board of Inquiry into Hunger and Malnutrition, a wholly unofficial agency born of another private organization spearheaded by Walter Reuther of the United Auto Workers Union.

In an inquiry April 27 to the county health officers Chairman Poage noted that their counties had been labeled as acute hunger spots. Then after observing that the Agriculture Committee is always concerned about the adequacy of food for all Americans, asked if they knew of any starvation or serious hunger in their areas occasioned by the inability of the individuals to either buy food or receive public assistance.

Replies came in from 19 of the 20 states named in the Citizens' board report (Arizona, where Apache county was named, was not represented in the replies). Over and over in the responses from the health officials there was the observation that the problem is largely one of education and not a question of the availability of food. The need for teaching those who buy the food and prepare the family menus was cited time and again. There was evidence also that many desperately poor people are unaware that federal food relief programs exist. There were comments also to the effect that but for the relief programs administered by the Dept. of Agriculture there undoubtedly would be much serious hunger.

"We set out to find the truth after hearing numerous complaints regarding the hunger report of the so-called Citizens' Board," said Poage.

"In my judgment the report was quite inaccurate and misleading, to put it mildly. There seems to be little or no evidence that any substantial hunger in this country exists as the result of the refusal of assistance agencies public and private, to give needed aid to those who are unable to work."

Liquor Bill Slows Down Special Session Schedule

By Vern Sanford

AUSTIN

This is a crucial week for the special session of the Legislature which, as expected, neared the half-way mark without coming to grips with any major assignments.

House members were due to face up to Gov. John Connally's 'small bottle" liquor by the drink bill early in the week, followed closely by a vote on a $2,500,000,000 budget for 1969 state governmental operations.

The mini-bottle liquor-bill was voted out of the Houst State Affairs Committee but only after one of the most confusing bouts of legislative, in-fighting history.

Two "wets" held critical positions. They voted for the bill on the second day of the committee debate after opposing it throughout the preceding day.

First, Rep. James Clark of Dallas captured the spotlight when we switched his vote from pro to con during the initial day's debates. Clark had offered amendments to the bill which were defeated by the committee.

Then, late in the afternoon, Clark started voting with the drys saying the legislation was an impossible "hodgepodge of legal gobbledegook."

But the next morning Clark voted for the bill, as did another "wet" opponent, Rep. Jake Johnson of San Antonio.

Both men indicated they had received assurances from the authors of the bill that their amendments would be given favorable consideration on the floor of the House if they would just help get the bill out of committee.

Clark and Johnson both want liquor by the jigger legislation instead of liquor in two-ounce mini-bottles as provided by the governor's bill. But they said they would go along with the little bottles if they could secure certain other changes in the law.

They want at least three provisions added:

1. An amendment to outlaw the practice of legislators representing clients in cases before the Texas Liquor Board.

2. A provision doubling the license fees for persons selling liquor and beer.

3. A provision requiring complete financial disclosure by holders of beer and liquor licenses. This is aimed at stopping the practice of juke box operators making loans to tavern operators at high interest rates.

With these assurances from the bill's authors, Clark and Johnson would seem to be in a strong position to make their demands be met but margin on the House floor appears very close, and the Senate even closer.

In case of failure of the governor's tax proposals, tied largely to a riase in the sales tax rate to three per cent with 75 per cent of the new income refunded to incorporated cities on basis of their populations - lawmakers may turn to a straight increase in the sales tax without refund provisions. Both the governor's bill and the straight sales tax raise were reviewed by the House Revenue and Tax Committee and sent to subcommittee.

House Speaker Ben Barnes has indicated he would like to have budget and liquor -- by the end of the week. That would leave less than two weeks for Senate action and final reconciliation of differences in conference committees.

STATE CONVENTIONS

Two Texans will go to the national political conventions as favorite son candidates for president -- Gov. Connally for the Democrats and Sen. John Tower for the Republicans.

Both won their honors overwhelmingly in state party conventions.

Both also are being mentioned prominently as prospective candidates for vice presidential nomination, although they deny they seek or expect places on the national ticket.

Connally and the moderate-conservatives proved they still are in firm control of the State Democratic party machinery when they crushed liberal opponents 2,835 to 499 on the favorite son resolution at their state meeting in Dallas.

All 104 Texas delegates to the Democratic convention in Chicago, August 26, are bound to support Connally under the unit rule until he releases them -- which is expected to be early -- in favor of Vice President Hubert Humphrey. It is doubtful there are any supporters of Sen. Eugene McCarthy in the delegation.

Republicans shouted four to one approval of the Tower favorite son resolution, and instructed their 56 delegates to Miami Beach for the August 5-8 national GOP convention to back him "until released from consultation" among the group.

While most of the Republican delegation is believed to favor Richard Nixon for the presidential nomination, an estimated 12 to 16 prefer California Gov. Ronald Reagan. Reagan boosters, catching the majority by surprise at the Corpus Christi convention, forced through a resolution commending the actor - turned - governor on his administration and his 'constructive influence on national affairs," urging him to take a more active role in national GOP politics. There were no backers of Gov. Nelson Rockefeller among the Texas delegates.

Texas Democratic leaders polled in Dallas acknowledged a race between Nixon and Humphrey would be too close for comfort.

COURTS SPEAK

State Supreme Court set July 10 for review of a labor union's appeal from an injunction against picketing construction near Orange.

High court refused to order Regulatory Loan Commissioner Frances S. Miskell to issue Beneficial Finance Company license for its 61st Texas office.

Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin intervened to defend an 89 year old Texas law against demonstrations which block a private business' activities. Challenge of law was filed in federal court by students who have been picketing an Austin service station.

Court of Criminal Appeals refused to rehear the appeal of a Houston attorney who was convicted of encouraging an illiterate client to lie in court testimony. Attorney got six year prison sentence.

STATE PAY

Members of the Attorney General's staff are meticulously studying a recent US Supreme Court decision which requires states to pay the federal minimum wage at state schools and hospitals.

State of Texas currently is pay ing the minimum wage, but requirements for paying overtime could call for $14 million more in state expenditure.

DEATH PENALTY

Sen. A. R. Schwartz of Galveston has asked Gov. Connally to open the special session of the Legislature for consideration of a bill that would do away with the death penalty.

Schwartz would prefer to provide for a life sentence that lasts until the inmate's death without any provision for parole.

SPJST Meeting Names Officers Aids Rogers School Czech Program

The 20th SPJST convention held in Dallas last week was adjourned Friday with most of the officers re-elected without opposition.

The only two contests in the six principal offices occurred in the president's and attorney's positions. Nick Morris of West, present editor of the Vestnik, defeated Raymond Urbanovsky of Temple, present secretary, for the Supreme Lodge president's spot being vacated by Edward L. Marek.

In the other contested race incumbent attorney, August Kacir of Temple defeated Ernest J. Hanka of Houston. After the president's slot had been filled, incumbent vice president, Joe B. Hejny and incumbent secretary Urbanovsky and incumbent financial secretary Ben Zabcik, all won their positions without opposition. All three are of Temple.

Leonard Mikeska of Temple won the supreme treasurer's spot unopposed after it had been vacated by the retiring Jos. Koliha, Jr.

Rudy Sefcik of Houston was elected new editor of the Vestnik to fill the spot vacated by Nick Morris, president-elect. Sefcik won unopposed after Stephen Valcik of Houston and Calvin Cervenka of Rogers declined to accept the position.

All directors remain the same, except retiring Charles Holasek of Corpus Christi, who was replaced by Jos. Koliha Jr. of Temple. Koliha, who retired as supreme lodge treasurer, will represent District 7 in South Texas.

Other directors are John Kubena of La Grange, Henry Vitek of Granger, Sid Pokladnik of Dallas, R. E. Broz of San Angelo and E. P. Sralla of Edna.

Named to important by-law committee were: Ben S. Trcalek of Caldwell, Anton Motl of Temple, Jerry Milan of Fort Worth, D. W. Pavlicek of Bomarton, Sidon Tumis of Houston, Jerome Vasek of Moulton and Roy Hranicky of Orange Grove. All were incumbents except Motl, who replaced Ted. J. Marek of Austin and Vasek who replaced Leo Krause of Inez.

Frances Olexa of Houston was the only incumbent who remained on the enlarged publications committee. The other four members of the committee were Frank Hejl Jr. of Temple, Wm. Miculka of Moulton, Ed Mazanec of Waco, and Stanley Vrla of Dallas.

Named to translate the by-laws into the Czech language were Stephen Valcik of Houston, Calvin Cervenka of Rogers and Leo Krause of Inez.

In other windup business the delegates selected Houston as the site of the 1972 SPJST convention; donated $200 to Rogers High School to aid in their program of teaching the Czech language; and increased the retirement pay of retiring president Marek.

Although the new officers will not assume their posts until January 1969, they were installed at the convention by retiring president Marek.

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Dear editar:

After I'd shaken the dirt off a newspaper a neighbor had used to wrap up some fresh vegetables he brought over to me out of his garden yesterday, proving I guess that we're living in a sick society or why wouldn't he have washed the greens first, I went out on the front porch and started reading.

The article that won top honors with me was one about a man who left this country a while back in a stolen boat because, he said, "America has never done anything for me," and went to Cuba. Last week he floated back to this country on a rubber raft, saying "Cuba never did anything for me either." He added that he believed he preferred jail in the United States to being out in the open in Cuba.

Actually of course he gave up too soon.

Why didn't he try France, where the minimum wage is 40 cents an hour and demonstrations, even by students, have just been banned?

From there he could have sampled Russia, where apartment rent is free to all three families living in the same room and you can denounce the government any time you don't mind being shot.

Then of course there's India, free of air pollution because they travel on foot and pull their own plows and the average income is $73 a year. They have no over-weight problems either.

I started to mention China, but I don't have the heart.

I could go on listing the other countries on earth, well actually I couldn't because I don't know the names of a tenth of them, I don't suppose anybody, not even college students, can sit down and name all the 200-odd countries, but I guess I've made my point.

America still has a long way to go, the same as you and me, but I doubt if Cuba has out-distanced us, or Russia or China or France or North Viet Nam.

Why don't you improve the health of this country and send me my copy of The Herald each week wrapped around a batch of fresh vegetables, cleaned of course?

Yours faithfully,

J.A.
